STARS Pictures Counters 2012 Hype with Release of FREE Feature Film

November 20 2012, online

Society is abuzz with theories regarding the end of the world. The Mayans predict December 21, 2012, but what if they're wrong? What if there's another timeline, a schedule written thousands of years before the Mayans' and one so detailed it is impossible to misread... This is the discovery of the Leap Crew in the action packed second chapter of this exciting trilogy, "Leap: Rise of the Beast", shot in and around Spokane, WA.

Buried in the pages of the ancient texts lies the outline of the end. Names, places, times, events all neatly chronicling the final days of our planet. The Leap Crew must now dig deeper to be prepared to face the coming end as the Earth spirals into chaos.

The film is available for free at <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=jZd-J7Ucn-c>

About STARS Pictures:

STARS Pictures was founded in 2003 by Director and Speaker, Chris Tempel. We started out doing short films, weddings and promotional works, then moved to feature films in 2007 with a low budget B-movie "Wulf". In December 2009, STARS Pictures was converted into a film ministry, producing stories most Christians are afraid to touch.

Our mission is to present Truth in such a way that society, both Christian and secular, becomes hungry to study it deeper for themselves. We will not be afraid of touching controversial subjects, if the Lord directs us to do so. We believe that through studying Truth, one can grow to develop and personal relationship with Jesus Christ.
